

RODNEY GEE

In the Workplace

Rodney is retired from his role as a General Partner at Edward Jones. Throughout his career, he worked for several large firms including Southwestern Bell, Motorola, and Monsanto. During his retirement, he spent four years at Harris-Stowe State University amazingly transforming their HR abilities and function.

At Home

He has a wife, grown children, and a twin sister! Rodney's free time is often spent golfing, reading, cooking, and weight lifting. In addition to serving CHMO, he is also a trustee for the Community College District of St. Louis, the board chair for RX Outreach, and is on the Civil Service Commission of St. Louis County. He's a busy guy!

With CHMO

Rodney serves on our People & Culture Committee because human resources and marketing is his field of expertise. He loves serving on our board because it gives him the opportunity to see young members of the St. Louis community make great progress in their lives.
